There will be two individual midterms that will have a value each one of 25% of the final mark. 50% remaining grade will be on the work in group; the follow-up of the exercises of the student; the class participation; the oral presentation of the work in group; and an individual activity. The only that can be recovered in the period of complementary exams are the two midterms. These two midterms are not accumulative. The grade of the midterms must be a five out of ten or more in order to do calculate the average with the rest of activities of evaluation. It is indispensable to assist to the two midterms, deliver the work in group and make the presentation. The professor will have in mind the progression and continuous evaluation of the student. The day and hour for the complementary exam will be on February 9th at the regular time of class. In this complementary exam the student can recover the first failed midterm; the second failed midterm; or both of them if it's the case.

- Final work (mandatory group activity): The students will be required to develop a PR strategy applied to an existing international business project or a new one. There's no a specific extension required. Mandatory parts of this work will be (there can be other extra points that the student consider necessary):

- Introduction to the international product(s)/brand/proejct and business area related to PR
- Communication plan
- Risk management plan
- Crisis management plant
- Conclusions.

The dateline will be on January 12th and there will be coaching sessions related to the final work during the course.

- Midterm exam (individual activity):
Short questions and long questions about the first part of the course. The exam will be on November 17th. The review for the exam will be on November 10th. The midterm is composed by:

- 1st part: a test of 15 questions (multiple-choice and true or false type) (maximum punctuation: 3 points).
 - 2nd part: 10 short questions (maximum punctuation: 3 points).
 - 3th part: Analysis question: you can choose between two topics to explain one of them (maximum punctuation: 4 points).
- Final exam (individual activity): Short questions and long questions about the second part of the course. The exam will be on January 26th. The review for the exam will be on January 19th. The exam is composed by:
 - 1st part: a test of 15 questions (multiple-choice and true or false type) (maximum punctuation: 3 points).
 - 2nd part: 10 short questions (maximum punctuation: 3 points).
 - 3th part: Analysis question: you can choose between two topics to explain one of them (maximum punctuation: 4 points).
- Follow-up of the activities (individual/group activity):

The participation is required in all classes. Different activities will be done in class, but in order to evaluate the participation, the student has to complete 5 specific evaluable exercises on moodle platform (each one a 2% of the final grade). These exercises can be related or not to the final work, to the individual activity and or to the theoretical content of the subject. These exercises also will be part of the discussion in class, so also can be material for the exam. Late exercises will not be admitted. Exercises must be uploaded to the platform. There are no extra credits.
- Individual activity:

The objective of the individual activity is to analyze or develop a PR strategy based on a real case of PR fiasco. Delivery of the individual activity will be on December 15th.

METHODOLOGY:

The subject combines the theoretical knowledges with the practice. Along the sessions, the professor will expose contents of the program using different methodologies of learning, in addition to effective formative activities in group to complement the knowledges purchased. Likewise, the students will have to make individual activities.

On the other hand, during the hours of personal work, the students will make by groups a final work of the subject that will have to expose at the end of the subject. Finally, it's recommended to the student that works periodically into the subject, to consolidate the knowledges purchased in the subject. This personal work will consist in making a review of the theoretical appearances treaties in class and complement them with the basic bibliography.
